Commencement 1961

73 Graduates And Capacity Crowd Hear Noted Educator's Address

Dr. Vincent McGuire, professor of Language Arts Education, University of Florida, speaker at Graduation Exercises of Belle Glade High School, held the rapt attention of the 73 graduating seniors and a jam-packed house of their relatives and friends last Thursday night.

This was the largest graduating class in the history of Belle Glade High School and the largest crowd ever assembled in the auditorium.

Speaking on "What is Education?" Dr. McGuire reminded the assembly of the many "facts" they'd learned in school which they had not retained in memory. "Are you then uneducated because you don't know they answers?" he asked. "Of course not!"

"What then is education if it's not a mere memory of facts?" In order to be educated in order to get along in this world, you must: 1. Develop work and study habits that will help you in any situation. 2. The second characteristic of a well-educated person is that of being able to entertain no whims. 3. An educated man is one who follows through; and 4. Probably the most important characteristic of an educated man is that he has faith... faith in himself and his creator. You can't have faith in God unless you have faith in yourself because He created you."

He cited an incident of a professor who told a student "If there is a God, prove it!" "The sad part of the professor's education was that despite his many degrees and intensive training, he was not educated to the truth that you must accept something on a faith alone."

Donald Fliehs, of 543 S. E. 7th Drive, Belle Glade, Florida, received the Doctor of Optometry degree from the Illinois College of Optometry, Chicago, at the 19th Commencement on June 2, 1961.

Dr. Fliehs is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Fliehs. He graduated from Belle Glade High School and completed his preoptometric work at the University of Miami, Coral Gables, where he received a B. B. A. in Accounting.

While at Illinois College of Optometry, Dr. Fliehs was a member of Omega Beta Fraternity and the Council on Ethics for which he served as Treasurer in 1959. He is a member of the American Optometric Association.

Dr. Fliehs plans to practice in Florida.

Ivan Van Horn Has Surgery At Mayo's

Word has been received from Mr. Gertrude Van Horn, that her husband Ivan, underwent kidney surgery Saturday a.m., June 10 at the Rochester Methodist Hospital, Rochester, Minn., and his condition was satisfactory at that time.

The Van Horns left on a months trip via Rochester for observation, at Mayo Clinic. Friends here may write to Mrs. Van Horn at Hotel Arthur, Rochester, Minn.

The agreement in question—and which has apparently been tossed out the window by the communities of South Bay and Pahokee, calls for sale of liquor daily from 8 a. m. to midnight, until 1 a. m. on Sundays and for bars to be closed the rest of the time on Sunday.

In a resolution adopted by South Bay, Pahokee and Belle Glade in April, 1952, petitioned the county to follow the agreement in establishing hours outside of municipalities and outside of jurisdiction of the county. The commission adopted the resolution, and since that time has been called on to defend the closing hours in court.

In recent months, South Bay and Pahokee have changed their hours of operation to set a longer day for sales and for Sunday sales in some areas. Belle Glade sticks to the closing hours named in the original tri-city agreement.

The county commission this week refused to change its established hours of operation until it hears directly from the towns of South Bay and Pahokee what they intend to do about the 1952 resolution which they asked the county to adopt.

Meantime a storm of protest over a change in operating hours has blown up in Belle Glade and a sheet of letters to this effect were filed with the commission this week. Groups registering protests with the commission included the Belle Glade City Commission, Community Christian Church, Florida Christian Ministry to Migrants, Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church, the Belle Glade Inter-Racial Council and the Belle Glade Negro Civic League.

Commissioner Paul Bardin, Canal Point, at one point in the discussion attempted to resolve the question by moving the time for a change in hours be denied. His motion died for lack of a second.

Tom Johnson, attorney for the Palm Club, said his client was being forced out of business because of the so-called inequity of operating hours. The club he said, is forced to close at midnight and the customers go elsewhere to drink.

At another point in the discussion, Bardin hotly denied that most of the Glades residents are drinking people. He was upheld in his opinion by Sarah Lee Creech, a Glades leader against the move to change the hour.

Johnson said most of the opposition against the proposed change is coming from "church people who are against the consumption of alcohol."

County Commission E. F. Van Horn said it is his duty to bring the Glades cities has seen fit to break the 1952 agreement and "now it seemed the fair thing to do to again try to bring the agreement back to its original position."

Watch For "Slickers" Chamber Secretary Sez

L. L. Price's "Anti-Slicker" department - known to the business community as the "Slicker Bureau" - in cooperation with Mr. Tilton the City's licensing, and Chief Clerk, has kept many "passing thru" city slickers from preying on Belle Glade's citizens and merchants.

However, some brazenly stop off here on their way back home, or on their way for green pastures in the summertime. Through cooperation with the Better Business Bureau of the country your local Chamber has, or can get very easily, reports on any individual or firm who is making unscrupulous themselves to be reputable in other communities.

Propositions on the "up-and-down" business and Chief Clerk with the local Chamber before presenting their propositions to the public, it's the other way around. We must be wary of, and should call the Chamber if there's any question.

Immoral, But— Who Returns The Money?

Comptroller Green has just issued each of Florida's 67 counties a check for $12,000 as their part of race-track money.

To date this year, July 1 of '60 to June 5, '61 each has received a total of $185,000.

Many of Florida's prominent citizens in 50 of Florida's counties and in many a majority of the voters, are "dirt set" again race-tracks.

We haven't heard of any county returning the "tainted money" received through this source.

This money builds roads to their homes and churches, and helps pay for their schools.

The "School Problem" - Just How Much?

Make no mistake, we realize that next to home environment, the school is the important influence in the life of any youngster, for there, he may find confirmation of home teaching about religion, as well as constant addition in the field of general knowledge.

To say the least, whatever problems our public schools face have been vastly exaggerated by supporters of federal aid to education.

Some information produced by a policy committee of which Senator Styles Bridges is chairman does much to clarify the picture, nationally.

It deals with how the schools fared in the eight-year period, between the school years 1952-53 and 1960-61. Here are a few of the facts it records: The number of pupils increased 35 per cent where as the instructional staff increased 45 per cent, and the number children per teacher declined from 26.2 to 24.4.

The average teachers' salary increased 52 per cent, as against the much smaller increase of 30 per cent in per capita personal income as a whole and of 34 per cent in industrial wages. And, whereas the addition of 9.7 million children to the school population required an additional 347,000 classrooms at the rate of 28 children per classroom, about half again as many, 507,500 were actually constructed.

To quote the report directly, these eight years "witnessed tremendous progress to improving school support, building new classrooms, hiring new teachers, raising teachers' salaries."

This is a proud record of achievement. If the facts mean anything at all, these mean that more federal encroachment on education, with the bureaucratic control, as it is, is unneeded, unjustified and dangerous.

In our enthusiasm for the welfare of our teachers, let's give them substantial support, be selective and let the election as to WHO, WHEN and HOW, be OURS, not the applicants, in employing teachers.

What may we do about housing? About social contacts? Making them feel we appreciate the good ones? Let's give them their DUE which we haven't always done!

Uncle Dan From Democrat River

Dear Mister Editor:
 I was telling the fellers at the country store Saturday night about what that column writer said it was costing the world to get ready for war. He said he allowed as how maybe we better try one more time to set down with them Russians at the Summit.

Zeke Grubb was again it, said he couldn't figure how it would do any good. Zeke said he was reading a piece last week showing that since we recognized Russia in 1933, Russia has broke 51 of the 53 agreements they has made with us. And Buzz Hookum said he saw where Herbert Hoover claimed that when Stalin come to power he barrel head when he said the only noise they respect is the hum of our missiles. It's a sad thought, Mister Editor, but it looks like all we can do is fer us to put our trust in the A-bomb, and keep our missile factories running on three shifts.

I don't know what decision President Kennedy will make in this matter, but it was agreed at our session Saturday night that we'll never get anywhere setting down at the Summit table with them bandits. Clem Webster just about hit it on the head when he said the barrel head when he said the only noise they respect is the hum of our missiles. It's a sad thought, Mister Editor, but it looks like all we can do is fer us to put our trust in the A-bomb, and keep our missile factories running on three shifts.

And I see by the papers where

"Dad, I've had a little accident with the car. I'm all right, but the car didn't do so well. Perhaps you had better come over to..."

And, Dad, there may come a time when you're glad you bought the best when it comes to insurance. That's the only kind we sell.

100 Years Have Past Since . . .

MISSOURI CAPITAL FALLS HARPERS FERRY BURNED
 This week 100 years ago was a bad one for the Confederacy. Federal troops occupied Jefferson City, capital of Missouri, and defeated state troops at Booneville. Confederate troops under General Joseph E. Johnston set fire to the arsenal at Harpers Ferry in northern Virginia. The Confederates in Missouri erupted again June 11th, when Governor Claiborne Jackson and his military commander, General Sterling Price, conferred at St. Louis with Nathaniel Lyon, former commander of the St. Louis arsenal, who had just been promoted to brigadier general.

The meeting was futile. It broke up after four hours with Jackson's refusal to allow federal troops free movement in his state, Lyons' insistence on that very thing. The result amounted to a mutual declaration of war.

Johnson and Price hurried back to Springfield that night and by morning had called for 50,000 troops to repel "invaders" by the federal troops. Next day, Missouri government, with a rapidly forming army of volunteers, withdrew to Booneville, 50 miles up the Missouri River, and set up their defense.

From there, Lyon again pushed westward on the river and landed his men unopposed on the 17th mile south of Booneville. There he met Jackson's troops in a sharp fight and drove them from the town. Though casualties were small on both sides, the fight, lasting nearly all of Missouri in federal hands and drove Jackson and his government into refuge in the southwestern corner of the state.

Johnston's Withdrawal
 Meanwhile, back east, Johnston had been watching with trepidation the advance of a federal army under General Robert Patterson from Chambersburg, Pa., south toward Harper's Ferry, and each day his fears grew. The Union victory at Philippi had alarmed him to some extent, and almost daily there were demonstrations against his men. (Part of his fear was based on a June 13 raid against Confederates at nearby Romney — a raid by Colonel Lee Wallace, who was to go down in history as the author of "Ban Hoo.")

Having completed the job of moving usable firearms and equipment from Harper's Ferry, Johnston finally resolved to leave the position which "it perfectly suited the enemy's" views" to have him cornered on June 14, 15 and 16, he blew up the town's long railroad bridge over the Potomac, set fire to the public buildings and evacuated his 7,000 men from the fortress in a long, dusty caravan. With black smoke curling up from the town behind them, they headed south through Charles Town, camped at Bunker Hill and finally stopped near Winchester.

With painful caution, his men crossed the Potomac, tested the arsenal, and, with some surprise, found it empty. Taking courage from the withdrawal, Patterson reported the rebels "have fled, and in confusion. Their retreat is as demoralizing as a defeat."

The withdrawal was taken that way in Richmond, and both Robert E. Lee and Jefferson Davis were unhappy over it. Nevertheless, Johnston's new position at Winchester was to prove crucial in the most important battle of the first year of war — First Bull Run.

Library News

The Belle Glade Library held its last board meeting Tuesday for the current session, and discussed the budget for the coming year.

It was with deep regret the resignation of Mrs. Ruth Beck's resignation. She has worked long and faithfully and will be sincerely missed.

The library board also wishes to thank the Jay-Cettes, the Civitan Club and the many civic minded ladies who have given the benefit bridge parties to purchase new juvenile books.

We extend a cordial invitation to all to inspect the "New Year" in the children's department.

A new fund was discussed, namely "The Memorial Fund." It was suggested that in passing on of a loved one, a request, that instead of flowers that sent Palm Beach on Thursday, the equivalent amount be sent to "The Belle Glade Memorial Library Fund." Each book so purchased would have an engraving plate on the front page in perpetual memory of the donor. For any further information, call The Belle Glade Library.

Dr. Thomas Bregger has been appointed a new member of the board to replace the late Dr. Harris, who resigned last month.

140 new books were processed cataloged, shelved and placed, in the month of May alone.

The next meeting of the board will be conducted Sept. 11, 1961 and thereafter it will be held the second Tuesday, quarterly. — Ruth Clemans

DOWPON controls catnails and problem grasses along ditches

A regular spraying program with DOWPON puts a real end to the continual expense and hard work of burning, churning and cultivating Johnson or Bermuda grass out of crop lands and catnails out of ditches. In headlands and along fence lines, too, DOWPON eliminates grass-for it kills the deep roots as well as tops. Through cumulative action, this program becomes less costly each year. You'll find DOWPON cheaper than chiselers or borates, less messy than chiselers. Simply mix DOWPON with water, and spray.

Shell experts test for knock by accelerating up steep grade. In another test, that "fifth wheel" in the back is lowered onto the road to measure mileage precisely.

TOP PERFORMANCE:

Shell test crew reveals five ways to test your car for top performance—and how the 9 ingredients in today's Super Shell can help you get it

Test #1. Quick starting

Count the seconds it takes to start your car. The engine should "snap to" in about two to three seconds. A slow start drains your battery, and it may flood your cylinders, causing performance troubles.

If your engine is balky, try Super Shell. It's blended with a fatty ingredient called Butene-

Test #2. Smooth running

Pay close attention to your engine in traffic.

Does it vibrate roughly when you stop for a traffic light? Does it seem to "surge" as you pull away, then falter and idle?

Does it vibrate roughly when you stop for a traffic light? Does it seem to "surge" as you pull away, then falter and idle?

The problem may be the wrong blend of gasoline.

In summer, for example, excessive heat can make winter grade gasoline bubble in the fuel line. Bubbles can interfere with the flow, causing rough running.

Shell scientists don't let that happen with Super Shell. When hot weather threatens, they adjust Super Shell's 9-ingredient formula to give it the correct volatility for smooth summer driving.

Test #3. Reserve power

On a turnpike, in light traffic, accelerate suddenly from about thirty miles an hour to the legal limit. Now ask yourself:

Test #4. Knock

Accelerate up a long, steep hill and listen carefully. If you hear a sound like marbles falling into an empty oil drum, you've got knock. It could cause engine trouble.

Take no chances. Switch to Super Shell. Its formula includes no less than three ingredients to fight the various causes of knock.

Test #5. Miles per gallon

Don't trust your fuel gauge when you measure miles per gallon. Take these three simple steps and be sure.

1. Start your test by filling your tank. Make sure the gasoline comes up to the brim. Write down your mileage reading.

2. Drive in your normal manner for at least three tankfuls.

Test #6. Record of the exact amount you buy.

3. Finally, fill your tank to the brim again. Add up all the gallons you've bought (not counting the initial fill-up in step 1). Divide this amount into your total miles driven. This gives you your miles per gallon.

Try this test with three tankfuls of Super Shell. You'll see what top performance really is.

Belle Glade Junior-Senior High Schools

(Editor's Note: The reports of this two score of authorities comprising the Evaluation Committee, which should be a matter of concern for all parents. We will present them each week until each subject is covered.)

Library
The committee wishes to commend the school on the fine attitude of students and teachers toward the instructional materials program. The helpful attitudes on the part of the librarian and teachers toward students in the library goes far in setting the stage for good working habits.

The committee is pleased that a start has been made in accumulating back issues of periodicals for use in research along with the Readers Guide. A vertical file of information has been started and this is a good beginning.

The committee wishes to call attention to the fact that school library standards are the process of being raised both by the State and the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools to more nearly conform to 1960 Standards of the American Library Association. The school and community should be aware of these to make one of their long-term goals the enlarging of the instructional materials collection so that it adequately meet the needs of school and community.

The committee wishes to make the following recommendations:

1. That the county give attention to increasing the budget for instructional materials so that the Belle Glade High School Library may, on a graduated scale, put an increasing amount into the budget for such materials.

2. That re-evaluating the junior high school curriculum be considered in order to be eliminating the study hall and using this time as a block of study for a teacher or a team of teachers. Students can then use study time and classroom more effectively.

3. That study hall for senior high students be re-organized or eliminated.

4. That consideration be given to planning utilization of the entire space in the library unit on the second floor to accommodate the needs of the school. This school plan begins to be used for adult college and adult education.

5. That greater use be made of all types of instructional materials in order to enrich the experiences of young people. The use of such materials should show up in attractive displays in classrooms, greater use of films and filmstrips, recordings, more interesting and worthwhile reporting by students, better reading habits and greater consumption of books and generally more interest by students in their studies.

6. That in order to make these materials more readily available to teachers and students that they be collected and organized within the library; that all materials be indexed in a central card system; that this would include the following items: books, filmstrips, recordings, maps, globes, vertical file materials, guidance materials, projection and recording equipment to be housed within library property.

7. That the library's full time be given to administration of the library.

8. That as the program grows provision be made for clerical help.

9. That teachers add the librarian in collecting materials and inform the library of needs for books, and other materials to be added.

10. That immediate attention be given to expansion of the collection of books, periodicals and books to the social sciences, history, science and mathematics.

11. That consideration be given to some use of paperback editions of books where it seems practical and where needs are too great to be met otherwise.

12. That teachers inform the library of their needs for library services for work on library skills, book talks, story-telling, etc.

13. That teachers provide time for those students who have no study halls to get to the library during the school day.

GUIDANCE

The Committee commends the school (1) for its interest in guidance which has been evident for a number of years; (2) for the existence of an excellent working relationship between the principal, deans, staff and the guidance director; (3) for the warm relationship between the student body and those who are assigned counseling responsibilities; and (4) for the awareness of the administration and staff of the importance of well organized guidance program.

Recommendations

1. The Committee recommends that the school be relieved of all responsibilities except those given with the guidance program.

2. Thought should be given to the reorganization of an organizational chart which will delineate clearly the responsibilities of the deans and the guidance director.

3. If an effective program is to be developed, full time clerical staff should be assigned to the guidance center.

4. Office space for the guidance center should be provided in one general area. Each person in the guidance center must be assigned an office which will provide the privacy necessary in individual counseling.

5. New students who enter from elementary schools in the area should go through an orientation program prior to their entrance into junior-senior high school.

6. More emphasis should be placed on group guidance activities.

7. The staff needs to be made aware of the desirability of contributing to the school's development as well as studying the effectiveness of the counseling program.

8. A systematic study needs to be made of graduates and drop-outs. The findings of the study should be made available to students and teachers.

9. Arrangement should be made for the display of information concerning educational and vocational information.

10. Display racks for guidance material should be provided in the guidance center.

11. A systematic study needs to be made in the guidance center, library and other strategic areas to keep students aware of services and community use of the school plan through Junior College and adult education.

12. That greater use be made of all types of instructional materials in order to enrich the experiences of young people.

13. Additional information about financial aid program needs to be made available for students who are interested in part high school education and training.

14. It is the recommendation of the Committee that Belle Glade Junior-Senior High School has made an excellent beginning with its guidance program.

With continued support of the Administration and staff we feel sure a more effective guidance program will be soon available.

Health Services
The visiting committee commends the local committee for their evaluation of the program and the excellent cooperation of the Belle Glade Junior-Senior High School. We were impressed with the following aspects:

1. Clean and well cared for showers and dressing rooms in the physical education program.

2. Cleanliness of the building and grounds.

3. Good work and unity between this school and the Department of Health.

4. That a planned program as a health unit but we found health being taught in the following courses: General Science, Biology, Homecoming, and Physical Education.

The committee makes the following recommendations in this area of health:

1. A full time nurse for Belle Glade Junior-Senior High School should also be a nurse who is responsible for transporting ill pupils home. Many homes do not have phones and the need for no other way to reach parents.

2. A council formed from community health workers, school workers, and faculty. The committee main purpose is to set up the program in this area.

3. A foot bath should be placed in the dressing rooms.

4. We recommend a study be made of the possibility of medical examination for all students.

5. Teach first aid in the 7th and 10th grades and use the county chapter to help with this program.

6. Future Nurses, a club for girls, seems to be very active and has a great many duties. This club could help the full time nurse in her duties and might help the overall program.

The recommendations are listed in order of importance but we don't feel any should be ignored.

Committee: Mrs. Sally Spillman.

SCHOOL PLANT AND GROUNDS

The members of the Visiting Committee on School Plant and Grounds, representing the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, wishes to express their appreciation to the staff of Belle Glade Junior-Senior High School for the thorough job of preparing such excellent data including charts, maps and plans of the school plant and grounds.

After having (1) examined this data contained in Section II of the 'Evaluative Criteria and Standards' (2) made field surveys and inspections, and (3) reviewed and discussed the school plant and grounds facilities with the administration, faculty and student body, the Visiting Committee has classified these needs into four general and departmental.
